

DDH Conservative Growth Fund

(formerly the Q Invest Investment Access Funds – Conservative Growth Fund)

Overview of DDH Investment Access Funds

DDH Investment Access Funds is an investment offer that provides investors with access to QIC managed wholesale funds and a Bank of Queensland cash deposit fund. Investors can choose between six single and three multi-sector investment funds that offer a range of different asset classes and risk profiles, with exposure to a diverse range of asset classes including cash, fixed interest, property, Australian shares and International shares.

Investors' investment decisions need to take into account many factors including their objective, risk and return preferences and investment time horizons. This means that with a choice of nine individual Investment Access Funds the choice of Fund, or a combination of Funds, is a personal choice.

Investment Manager

As one of Australia's largest wholesale fund managers with approximately $52 billion in funds under management, QIC has extensive experience and capability in institutional investing. QIC's structure and backing is unique amongst institutional investment managers while the expertise and conviction of its investment teams contribute to produce consistently above-average returns.

Investment objective

The DDH Conservative Growth Fund seeks to achieve an investment return of at least CPI plus 2% (before fees) over rolling 3 year periods.

Investment philosophy

The Funds' investment philosophy is to identify, quantify and manage those things which impact on funds' returns and do so using autonomous investment teams. This approach is what QIC terms "whole of fund management". It benefits from interaction but also produces consistently independent, diversified, risk-controlled, active management.
